Mansfield, Hail

Old Mans-field, high up-on the east-ern hill.
Dear Mans-field, hail to thee!
Thy Loy-al sons and daughters with a will,
Sa-lute in mel-o-dy.
We bring a lau-rel wreath of praise,
And pledge our love thro' all the days;
Our Alma Mater, dear, all hail to thee!
Old Mans-field, hail to thee!

In the beginning,

there were suitcases, boxes, and bags . . .

being dragged,
pushed, and carried . . .

by old and new students, their parents, and their siblings . . .

into places bearing
the names of Laurel, Maple, Cedar-

crest, Hemlock,
and Pinecrest —

not to mention a few apartments.

Where was all of this happening??

WHERE ELSE
BUT MANSFIELD!

You may be wondering how we came up with “Where else but Mansfield” as our theme. Well, it seemed to very easily follow last year’s “Car-ontawan” theme, “Where the hell is Mansfield?” After finding out where Mansfield is, there are many reasons to say, “Where else but Mansfield?” Some of these are . . .

the fresh, clean
air, the mountains and trees —
nature can be found all around, even in a dorm room, given
the room is sunny
and someone with a green thumb lives there.

Quiet places to think, study, or just rest are easily accessible, and . . .

FEBRUARY 1981

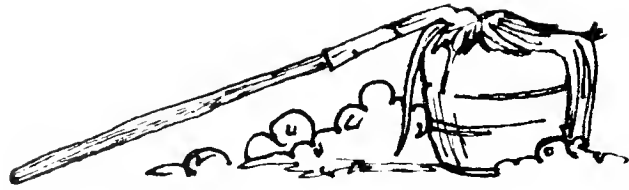

a large variety of activities are offered on campus so almost anyone can find something to do.

After last year's scare of Mansfield State College turning into a "ghost college" as a result of retrenchment, we should become more optimistic about the future of our college. We can be optimistic about Mansfield

State College as enrollment rises, as more activities are available on campus, . . .

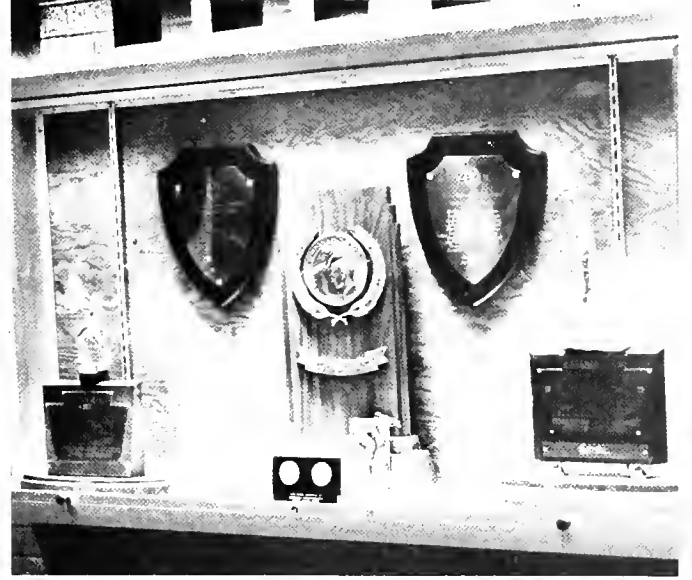

and as the school is repaired and cleaned up.

As has been said, "Without effort, there is no reward." We can show our optimism first with an effort to improve our participation in school activities, to help our school improve, to recruit new students, and so on.

The reward of these activities will be a much brighter future for the life of Mansfield College.

State

“Plunge boldly into the thing of life! . . .
seize it where you will, it is interesting,” wrote
Johann Goethe.

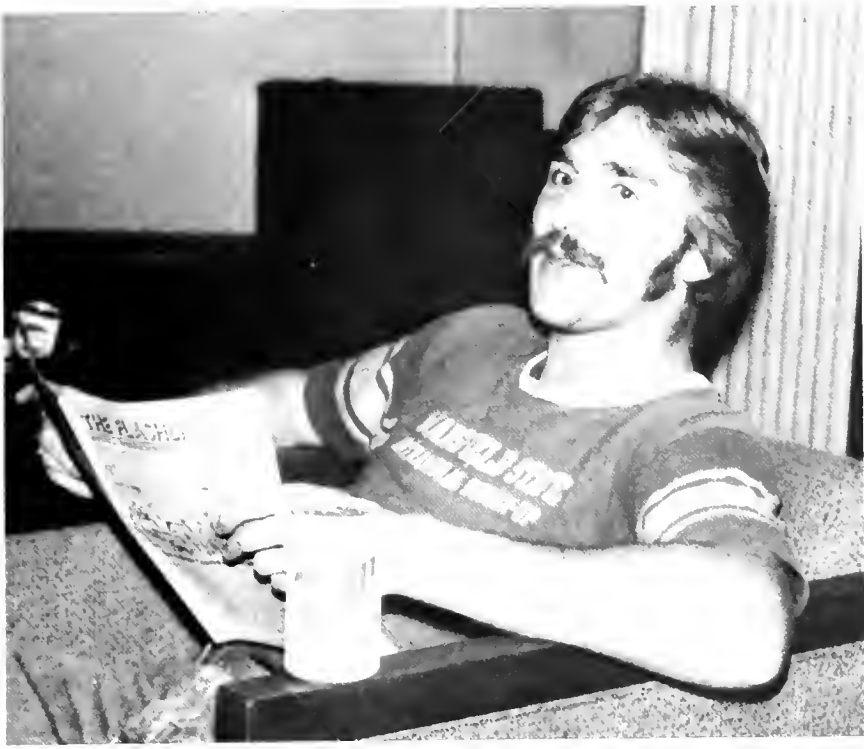

Looking through this edition of the "Carontawan," you will see how Mansfield State College students and faculty follow Goethe's advice and how well it works.

You can find life at MSC, but . . .

as one saying goes, "Life is like a piano — what you get out of it depends on how you play it."

If you would like to see how people | “play it” well | “Where else but enough to say, | Mansfield,”

The Pure Prairie League

April 10, 1981

Christmas break was pleasant for the majority except for these associated with TKE . . .

The Poet's Song

The lonely one searches for light through the dark,
Looking for any sign that his course is true.
He trudges, unknown while popular, friendly yet distant.

Searching for faith immersed in weakness,
The lonely one is at home wherever he is.
He alone knows the joys, sorrows, and revelations of his path.

The lonely one will venture to bring out the concerns
Otherwise hidden by his companions,
Given only at the greatest of moments.
He laments and celebrates without them,
Confiding in his pen and paper,
Assured of their loyalty.

Looking over others as a father,
Leading them to where they might see,
Meaning no harm, arousing indifference,
Reaching but never touching anything except Barricaded people, wanting no part of him,
He treads without them, tired of their Hoaxes.

John Higham

The Room

Hidden inside the dimly-lit hovel,
You and I sat, drinking wine.
Discounted, our senses forced Street noise to quietly whisper
Outside the cracked window.

From beneath the splintered door leaped Ideas, born ponderable, suddenly Possible with explicit simplicity,
Re-formed to wipe away all
Oppression, injustice and hate.

Candle smoke polluted the musty air
Making each glass harder to finish.
Tomorrow we pledged to action
As the evening slowly passed away
Quietly taking our plans with it.

John Higham

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges 1980-81

Thirty-five Mansfield State students have been selected to be among the country's most outstanding campus leaders. These students were chosen based on their academic performance service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential. They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1200 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Well, now that you've read the yearbook, "where else but Mansfield" can you find such scenery,

activities for al- | est, ...
most every inter-

good cultural events,

a great, caring faculty, . . .

friendly
students, and . . .

any number of special qualities?

If you have made an effort to be involved in MSC life, you should realize we do have the potential to do great things in the future.

Remember, this is not an end, because the future

brings only new beginnings.

As A.E. Bradley stated, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." Support MSC, come back to it with even more enthusiasm at any time, remember all the good things you found at MSC, and you will always be able to say, "Where else but Mansfield!"

Fellow Students:

I hear college graduates speak of the "good old days" and their experiences with such desire and feeling of being there again that I can't imagine it; but, someday I know that I will have those empathies.

Memories are lasting experiences. These experiences are as worthwhile as you make it. Before you lies a college full of interactions with others, each different in nature. Don't let your college experiences pass you by. Gain the knowledge and understanding to make you a better person.

This yearbook will serve as a reminder that you should experience Mansfield and not be just a minute part of an experience. Make things happen. Cause a whirlpool, don't just flow along. But remember, you can create tides, but don't drown in them.

From an experiencing Mansfieldian,
